SEAT GUIDE · FOR ADVISORY FIRMS

How do I choose the right seat?

Everyone at your firm can create meetings, run prep, work on the notes, and sync to your systems of record. What changes between seats is how far Mili goes beyond that — from answering questions and looking things up from your notes and integrations, to doing the work itself: researching a prospect, building a planning report, drafting the email, filling the form — and writing the result back into your systems. Support seats are free, so it is only the advisors and producers you are counting.

Full

Runs the meeting and does everything that follows — every agent, every document, written back into your systems.

Meeting

Runs the meeting end to end, and answers everyday questions from your notes, clients, and connected systems.

Agents

Produces the research, plans, documents and emails behind a meeting, and files the results. Not in the room.

Support

FREE

Sets meetings up, runs prep, and keeps records current — without asking Mili to produce work.

Seats are set per person, and you can mix them freely. The question for each person is how far you want Mili to go for them — from answering questions and looking things up, to producing the work and writing it back into your systems.

THE FLOOR

What every seat gets

None of this depends on the seat someone holds, and none of it counts against a usage limit.

Meetings

View and create meetings, and build prep and agendas.

Prep documents

Ask about the documents selected in the meeting-prep view.

CRM updates from notes

Push updates into your CRM from a meeting's notes page — on every seat.

Notes and tasks

Shared notes and tasks across the firm.

Connections hold

Your integrations stay connected on every seat; what a seat can do with them still applies.

Never metered

Meeting prep, notes, transcripts, agendas, and client snapshots are always free.

USAGE

The only thing that's metered

Seats where Mili does the work — Full and Agents — carry a monthly credit allowance. Nothing else in the platform draws it down.

What spends a credit

Every question you ask Mili, and every automation run.

How many

100 credits a month per person on Full and Agents seats.

What never spends one

Anything to do with a meeting — prep, notes, transcripts, agendas, and client snapshots. Free on every seat, however much you use them.

Meeting and Support seats

No allowance, because there's nothing on those seats that draws any credit.

APPENDIX

Every capability, seat by seat

The complete list, for anyone who needs to check a specific case.

Support seats are free on every plan except Meeting Starter, where they are paid. Meeting Starter also caps live meetings at 30 a month.

Admin and Member are account roles, set separately from seats. They control who can administer the account, not what Mili can do for someone.
